The recommendations included establishment of public forums and town meetings in which the mayor, counclimen, and other politicians would be asked to appear.

The association was also pushing for district elections of councilmen. Few comments were made on this suggestion, however.

Will Grand Jury Report Be Forgotten?

The 1972 San Mateo County Grand Jury has been discharged with thanks for its services, leaving behind a final 69 page report of recommendations and resolutions concerning its year of activities. Promptly, on the same day, the 1973 Grand Jury was impaneled thus assuring unbroken continuity for what many have called a "watchdog" service to the county.

It might be useful for the new Grand Jury to take careful note of what happens to the report filed by its predecessor body. The new jury, in its turn, will be required to file a report at the expiration of its year and should have some interest in what attention its deliberations can expect to receive.

The report of the 1972 Grand Jury contains some key "recommendations that its members felt would help to make county-government more efficient, effective, economical and responsive. But, if the criteria of some past years is any indication, it may not get more han perfunctuory attention. "File and forget" is all too often the rule in many California counties, and this treatment has been accorded to the reports of some San Mateo County Grand Jury instead of following the pair and visors for a Grand Jury instead of following the pair and the probation Department could make education—is the probation Department could make education—is the probation Department could make education is the county of the probation Department could make education is the county of the probation Department could make education is the county of the probation Department could make education is the county of the probation Department could make education is the probation Department could make education for the probation Department could make education is the p

This is the consensus of residents in that industrial city who heard of the untimely death of Councilman Gordon T Bobbit: "Its not only a tragic loss to the family, but to the city," said Mayor Frank Mammini, who served with Boblitt on the city's planning commission and ran on the same council election ticket with him.

"I know he was a Iremendous family man. I also know he was really devoted to this city. He worked for many years for it, and always with a smile, no matter how controversial the issues might be."

"I'm shocked to hear of it," said Steinkamp. "We've been personal friends for years. It really comes as a shock to me," he said repeating himself.

Councilmen Patrick Ahern and William Borba, foes politi-cally, also expressed sincere sorrow.

"Polictical views have nothing to do with this," pointed our Ahern. "I feel very sorry," said the senior councilman who first appointed Boblitt to the plan-ning commission.

"He had a faculty for shuck-ing things off, and going on to the next issue," said Ahern. "I don't think he dwelled on any one thing. We'd go at one anoth-er, and then on to the next is-sue."

Borba noted that 'you may have a difference of opinion on issues, but there are no grudges in personal life. I feel very sorry-about this incident. It's most unfortunate," he said.

City Manager Gale Dreisbach, a veteran observer of councilmanic actions and reactions, said Boblit: "always had a way of being able to take some of the roughness out of a particular agenda item.

"He managed for the most part to keep it on a level that was less formal than normal." said Dreisbach. "He had great potential. He displayed not only initiative. but the capability of amounting to a good council-man."

man."

Planning Director Dan Pass, who worked with Boblitt on the planning commission level, said Boblitt's death will be a "tremendous loss to the municipality."

"He had the capability of being firm, and set not brutal I admired his sandards and capability on the council, aithough I didn't always agree with him." said Pass. "He exhough I didn't always agree with him." said Pass. "He expected a lot from his city officials."

Lone Gunman Robs Clerk

A lone gunman at about 9 a.m. on Friday robbed a clerk at a San Bruno Fotomat booth at 298 EI Camino Real and escaped with an estimated $100 to $200, police said.

According to police, a man about 20, standing 5-8 and we ghing amnoximately 130 pounds confronted the clerk with what appeared to be a .22 celler revolver.

or their revolver.
Police said the robber reached in and teck $5 and $10 bills from the cash register. He was last seen running eastbound on Chapman Avenue. He had on a dark blue pea coat and wore glasses, police said.

A reminder from Mrs. John Lagomarsino, publicity chairman of the Holy Angels Women's Guild, about tonight's guild meeting emphasizes the fact that anyone still concerned with loosing some of those pounds gained during the holidays will find tonight's gathering a real help.

Mrs. Albert Abrahansohn has arranged for the appearance of Mrs. Else Gendar, of the Diet Workshop, Mrs. Gendar has many delightful and interesting tips on diet and will present everyone present a copy of the recipe book. Sweet Rewards.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall. on San Pedro Road in Colma. All interested ladies in the community are invited to join the members for this evening.

THE MEMBERS of the Community of St. Andrews are inviting the entire city to accept their invitation to join in the fun of a St. Valentines Day Dance this Friday at 8 p.m. in the St. Andrew's Community Center located in the Skyline Shopping Center. Robert, Cunningham and Al Theuson are chairing the event and have arranged for the performance of The Archipelagos, a favorite on the local music scene. The band will provide music from 9 - m. until 1 a.m. Tickets are available to persons calling 756-1524. Price per person will be $2, according to Mrs. Robert Cunningham.

THERE WILL BE several opportunities to celebrate St. Valentine's Day this year and another we should mention is the party being planned by the Holy Angels Latin Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Jose Jiminez are the chairmen of events which will be held on Saturday evening in the Holy Angels Parish Hall. Tickets, costing $2.50 a person, are on sale from the Jiminez (1992-0433), or they may be purchased at the door on Saturday for $3 a person.

may be purchased at the door on Saturday for $3 a person.

Like the members of $1. Andrew's Community, the Latin Club members are extending an invitation to everyone in the area to come and join in the fun and dance to the music of Carmelito Velez and his orchestra. While the dance party is being organized by persons with Spanish surnames the club is most anxious to make it Known that they hope no one will feel excluded from the invitation because they are of another ethnic origin, the evening is being planned as a community-wide event.

THE SECOND Fifty Plus Club "Singspiration" is scheduled for Sunday, February 11 in the home of President Edna Laurel Calhan.
The afternoon of singing and fellowship will start at 2 p.m. Mrs. Calhan urges all Fifty Plus Club members, who enjoy singing, to come and bring a friend along to enjoy the fun and music.

ON FEBRUARY 13 at 8 p.m., the members of the ordan Guild will hold their February business meetin Chaminade Hall. 175 Phelan Avenue in Sanancisco.

Francisco.

Mrs. Raymond Murphy, program director, has arranged to have Sister Noreen of the St. Elizabeth's Infant Hosnital speak.

Refreshments will be served by the Freshman class mothers following the meeting, according to Mrs. Richard Otts, publicity chairman.

MEMBERS OF the South San Francisco High School's government class for seniors have received a personal commendation from First Lady Patricia Nixon for their efforts during the recent election. The students volunteered up to 20 hours, on an individual basis, to developing community interest in the election and getting out the vote.

Word of the commendation, which was accommanied by an official inaugural portrait of the first family. comes from Mr. and Mrs. Richard McClain whose son, Jeff, along with 25 classmates was involved in the class project.

Copies of the letter and the portrait are being made so that each member of the class will have a momento of the undertaking and the originals are being framed for the school.

Mrs. McClain indicated that she was most gratified that the youths had received official recognition for their efforts.

"This country is overflowing with just such fine young Americans and the north San Matee county, thankfully, has received official recognition for its fine young people," she said.

The San Mateo County Board of Supervison is acting providently in asking County Manager M. D. Tarshes to investigate and recommend a procedure to assure a water supply for the county in the future.

The Times has long been concerned by the situation under which the principal water sources for the county are controlled and owned by the San Francisco Water Department which is a publicy owned utility belonging to the City and County of San Francisco. Although the water supply under this control has been well and progressively administered by this utility, except for occasional disputes over its water rate structure. Its primary responsibility has always been the provision of water for San Francisco.

In supporting this move for a San Mateo County investigation and planning for the future. Supervisor James V. Fizgerald contends that the capacity and cability of the San Francisco water system are questionable. He believes that this county should have specific powers as a water agency to deal with contingencies in the years to come. It has been agreed by the supervisors that the County Managers should seek such powers to supplement its request for federal runds to act in the matter of water supply sources.

Most of the water used by this county and its cities comes from the San Francisco system which brings the water from its Hecth-Hetchy complex in the Sierras to the reservoirs in the Crystal Springs lakes, recently improved by some filtrations installations. While this may be adequate now, the time may come when San Francisco might want to pre-empt this supply for its own uses.

This could present some knotty problems, for San Mateo County's own natural water-shed areas are mostly in the Crystal Spring lakes and adjoining vicinities. They were once owned by a private utility that was purchased by San Francisco at a time long ago when, apparently, no one foresaw the present growth of the Peninsula. They are virtually irreplaceable, and the cost of a water supply system paralleling that belonging to San Francisco a d

There is no real indication at present that San Francisco might seek to discontinue or curtail the water supplies it now delivers to San Mateo County, but it is wise for this county to be prepared to meet such an ultimate possibility.

It is only speculative that it was ever staged in German. So we're in for two firsts.

Kichard Shadley, a tall handsome 29 year old tenor who will sing the principal role of The Evangelist in all three performances, is an authority on the work since he's been singing it for five seasons and is considered a major exponent of the difficult Baroque style.

When he sings it in New York's Philharmonic Hall on Good Friday iwhere he made his debut at age 23, its will mark a special anniversary as the work was first performed on that in 1729, in Leipzig, under the composer's direction

Normally sung in churches and concert halls, this beloved oratorio will be staged by Gerald Freedman as a religious ritual and 'wondrous musical passion play.'

Shadley's expertise in the role is due to his physical presence, a singularly flexible tenor voice capable of the switt trills and wide range from coloratura high to a resonant low.

"It takes an agility, a voice capable of lots of color in the early 20th century a lot of Baroque music got overblown because of large symphony orchestras using a lot more instruments than it needs. Once you lose the essence, the work disintegrates."

"I never intended becoming a singer. I studied music at Heidelberg College in Tiffin. Ohio to be a music taken." I off studied violin and all the instruments except brass, because that's why my brother played. "I only took singing so I could conduct and work with choirs. From reviews I've read. Shadley's interpretation will be the prime reason for hearing this unique work. The unprecedented staging and English text may be only secondary.

Stormy Day in the Sun

Two years ago the quasi-government organization known as the United States Postal Corparation was taken out of the shadow of Congress and given its own day in the sun.

If public opinion is a barometer, that day has turned stormy

There is now talk on all levels of government – from local to federal – of bringing this corporation back into the coagressional fold.

A recent letter originating from the National Alliance of Postal and Federal Employees is perhaps the most critical of the new system.

Rehind the JESD Scene

TONIGHT THE Jefferson Elementary School Dis-trict Board will bare the findings of its special panel-appointed to investigate a "leak" surrounding the res-ignation-firing-or-whatever of a longtime devoted classified employee

Obviously, this column was written before the contents of that finding were made public. But without any reservation we can say this: The entire matter has been a fiasco. The appointment of what this writer can only consider to be a "Star Chamber" was a fiasco. The firing of Mrs. Marion Armstrong, close on the heels of a silly report filed with the administration by Classified Personnel Director David Pia outlining how he and other employees of the district tracked down the cooking of two turkeys and a couple of cakes using school district equipment is a stupid fiasco. And the passing of the "hot potato" from one board to another within the district is a fiasco. Obviously, this column was written before the con

WHO GIVES A DAMN whether Mrs. Marion Armstrong quit because of inside pressure from the Administration atter 18 long years of excellent service for that district and more than 40 years of honest and kind service to many needy people through her church?

I do: Where are all those people who were on the receiving end of Mrs. Armstrong's kindnesses? I haven't seen any — not one soul — at any of the past JESD Board meetings that are well publicized. She won't ask for help, because that's the way Mrs. Armstrong is.

BECAUSE OF THIS woman's nature, she doesn't

BECAUSE OF THIS woman's nature, she doesn't want to cause any trouble. She has been content to go through life, her many friends say, doing what she can for everybody — and we mean EVERYBODY.

She dislikes publicity. But it is unfortunate that her name has been dragged through the muck of newspaper accounts of her on-again-off-again resignation. According to pieces we were able to fit into the puzzle. Mrs. Armstrong told administrators and trustees that she would quietly reture. There IS a difference between 'reture' and 'resign.''

THIS WRITER IS more of a Don Quivote fighting THIS WRITER IS more of a Don Quixote, fighting windmills, than a Sir Galahad, fighting dragons. With that in mind, it is little wonder that this column will go the way of others critical of the JESD — to wrap smelly fish in and tossed into a garbage bin. But this once we have been forced to fight this windmill erected in our midst. The full story should have been told long before now, but the thought of what punishment might be meeted out to those whose names popped up in this column stayed our battered typewriter.

THE THOUGHT OF the Administration's asking demanding — that the "leak" surrounding Mrs-Armstrong's discussion in an executive session she wanted no truck with, is in itself ludicrous. There has been so much talk about the "leak" that the spollight has been diverted away from the reason for the Armstrong matter.

The "discovery," almost by magic, was made by Mr. Pia of Mrs. Armst-ong's cooking of the turkeys, some cakes, and God knows whatall, using utensils and sloves belonging to US TAXPAVERS. There was no warning from the mighty Administration. No telling Mrs. Armstrong that the use of his utensil or that half cup of salt was a no no. Justice was switt — too swift for this taxpayer's money. And I DO spend money supporting his district.

BUT ALL THIS is of little consequence because, cleverly, under the laughable anger of trustee James Cranna (formerly of the district's Personnel Board) and Board Chairman Al Collett, the "leak panel" was formed. Now here's the kicker: (Or would you rather we continue next week after your stomach settled a bit?)

THE LEAK BOARD at the suggestion of Supt. Frank Greenwood was to be chosen from among trustees in surrounding communities. He presented a long list of what could be considered "acceptable nersons." First to be selected was Leo Padreddii, a trustee of the South San Francisco Unified School District, Padreddii is a longtime friend of Chairman Collett. Next came a mind boggler. Instead of going outside the district to insure "fairness." the charge cry of the Administration in setting up the three member innuive panel selected Mrs. Margaret Bosberry, a classified employee of the district. Mrs. Bosberry, ou see, works under Pia, who was the one who . . . but you're already aware of what I'm going to say, so it is unnecessary to repeal it.

NOW, THESE TWO MEMBERS - Mrs NOW, THESE TWO MEMBERS — Mrs. Bosberry and Padreddi—were instructed to select a third member. Did Mrs. Bosberry and Padreddi select a third member. The third member. Daly City police Capt. David Hansen doesn't know who selected him. He had "assumed" it was as arranged. That is, Mrs. Bosberry and Mr. Padreddii. Our mind whirling in confusion we telephoned Mrs. Bosberry.

DID SHE select Capt. Hansen as the third member we asked? "I'm not at liberty to say." Mrs Broberry replied. And then we asked her a more direct question: "Did you or did you not select Capt. David Hansen as the third member of your panel in the Armstrong case?" To which Mrs. Bosberry repeated. "I am not at liberty to say. You must understand the position I am in:"

WE DID NOT understand the position of Mrs. Bosberry, who DID NOT attend the hearings with Captain Hansen or Padreddii. So we telephoned Greenwood.

The question was the same: Had Mrs. Bosberry, as agreed by the Administration and the trustees, in open meeting, selected Captain Hansen. And we finally got an answer.

MRS. BOSBERRY'S husband is extremely ill and after Greenwood learned that Padreddii had sugessted the name of an old pal and one time fellow officer. Greenwood called Mrs. Bosberry and asked if Capital Hansen met with her approval.

The answer was "yes."

Mrs. Bosberry did meet the board, but as a witness, not as a member. Eleven others met the twoman panel. One trustee Dorothy Adams, chose not to recognize the panel in closed session, asking it be held in public.

She walked out.

Viet Peace Is as Complicated as War

The war in Vietnam is over. nterestingly, a complex and omplicated war has been re-placed by an equally complex and complicated peace.

finally ended it.

Outlandish ciaims are made.

Was it Jane Fonda or bombing? Hawk or dove?

It is difficult at this time to render an adequate opinion. History, however, will probably view the essential elements in the following manner.

The fighting war was unique. Both sides had open-ended supply lines and the advantage of the flow of materiel from areas that were far beyond the combat wore far beyond the combat were immune from bombs, and the major powers were therefore free to fuel the war without direct risk.

The fighting war itself stalemated at an early time. Following the Tet offensive it became apparent that neither side could win or lose, so long as the will to light on was present on both sides.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Scotty Campbell's Packed Rain Or Shine

It was a night of pouring rain. Gusts of wind swept across El Camino Real in the Redwood City-Alherton area as drivers fought some of the worst Bay Area weather conditions in years. For your average restaurateur, it was, to say the least, a bad night for business.

Not so at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City Not so at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City, 4.18 p.m. e v e r y table in the house was taken, and customers lined the bar. And as the torrential rains increased outdoors, the trade increased in-doors. Nothing, it seems, can keep people away from Scotty Campbell's.

from Scotty Campbell's.

The big question now, of course, is why, What is there about this dining spot that perenmally remains a favorite of gournet diners? It has been said that Scott Campbell's is an "elegant restaurant for elegant diners," and there is truth in that. Elegance from the point of view of not only decor and atmosphere, but from the point of view of the people running the business. They feel that elegance also means the way a customer is treated. So that means you're often made to feel like royality in the way the shapely waitresses iclad in kilts of tartan plaid wait on you.

The policieus of Scotty Campbell's are those of

The policies of Scotty Campbell's are those of its owners-operators: Theresa and Bud Urban. Theresa's effervescent sister Mary Lou (who incidentally was recently married), and Mrs. Helen Trainor, mother of both Theresa and Mary Lou.

And the food" Like everything else at Scotty Campbell's, it is impeccable Prime Rib has always been a specialty of the house, and some people come from the East Bay and San Francisco to enjoy it — as only chefs Sal and Abel Sandoval can prepare it (these two gentlemen have been working here for 16 years now).

Other specialties: Beef Brochette Flambe: Tartan (combination sirloin and scampi!); Broiled Mahi Mahi Almondine: Half Spring Chicken: Boneless Breast of Chicken and Barbecued Baby Back Ribs.

(One of our personal preferences is the Gour-met Platter for Two, which consists of sliced sir-loin, barbecued ribs, chicken and scampi, served Lazy Susan-style).

Scotty Campbell's is open for business seven nights a week: Sunday through Thursday from 4:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.; Friday and Saturday until 11 p.m.

Now and again something new springs up on the restauran horizon, and your Bright Lighter would like to be the first to te you about the Korner Kitchen, located at 680 Laurel Avenue! San Carlos, This is no wall-howall red capted restaurant edition with a mattre of to make menu suggestions and prepare the salads at your table. It's an average friendly "Joe's Stork Club with counter and booth service. Meals are prepared by owner Tony Kwan and Marvin Dee, and served by their charmin wives. Chinese and American dishes are featured. A double no to the Strawberry Shortcake and Strawberry Tars, which appear to the dissert menu. The Korner Kitchen offers a Monda; through-Saturdy huncheon and Strawberry Tars, which appear to the Strawberry Tone Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beech, Pacifica, Roman has addicted more people (young and old alike than any other pizze expert in the Bay Area. Why is he so successful? Becaus he selfs pure pizze. So to make your Italian connection it's Remano's for the very timest in pizza. Reno Donait, dapper counter of the New Southers restaurant in South San Francisce has definitely gone the double-knit hit. Note those fancs new jeckets and matching slacks.

How The Shirt Tail Got It's Name

In answer to curious inquiries, Durby Adkins, manager of the Shirt Tail in Palo Allo, tells us how the restaurant got its nan The Shirt Tail was an old California gold mine. When Own Adrian Stickney heard the fame on a television show, he decid it would be the name of his restaurant then being built. However, the plash restaurant has a smart, California-Contemporary to and bears no resemblance to an old gold mine that we hope it a gold mine for Mr. S. . . San Francisco has its Fisherman Shart, but San Mattee has Vince's Italian and Sea Food restau ant. which offers an array of menu favorites, You can also relieve the colorate and after dinner in the intimate loung where hors of decures are served from 5.30 p.m. to 8.30 p. nightly.
